Applications Lab Manager – 12 months fixed-term contract

We are seeking an Application Lab Manager to be based fulltime in our laboratory in Saint-Ouen l'Aumône (95), France. You will be creative, formulation- and customer-oriented, autonomous in your work and you love to play with color and textures.

What you will do:

- Lead, manage, direct and develop Applications Team in the creation of products to demonstrate Sensient's capabilities
- Determine feasibility of project objectives, timelines and deliverables
- Coordinate and communicate with Sales, Marketing and Technical staff to provide solutions to customers
- Review technical marketing information: formulation guidelines and presentations
- Assist/liaise with R&D staff regarding NPD and other projects
- Manage and conduct training/workshops to customers and sales staff on Sensient ingredients and their applications
- Support Sales staff and travel with them to provide support during customer meetings

What you will bring:

- BSc in Chemistry, ideally specialized in formulation
- At least three years of experience in make-up and/or skincare formulation, as well as solid team leadership skills
- For our international environment, you bring fluency in English and French
- Proficiency in the essential Office Pack (PowerPoint, Word, Excel)
- You are an organized, rigorous and creative person, with the ability to work independently on assigned projects and improvement proposals
